

Life Lessons We Can Learn from Butterflies

- * We all need air, water, food, and shelter.
- * You should never judge a butterfly by its chrysalis – the beauty inside all of us is far greater than our beauty on the outside.
- * We come in many colors – all of them are beautiful!
- * We all come in different sizes.
- * Even if you're challenged at the same rate. It may take you a little longer to get there, but you can still reach the same great heights!
- * Nature has a grand plan – we need to respect it. Butterflies lay their eggs on what are considered to be weeds. The caterpillars will eat the weeds, keeping them from getting out of control. No weeds – no butterflies!

It's important to take time to smell the flowers –it could just be the nectar of your life!
